

The short content of the 11th opera: “David – the winner king of the Israel and Judaea.”

Our protagonists Peter and Eve are visited by the alien entities again and teleported to the age of the King David. They are also warned, that from the dimension out of the time and space, and powered by the absolute chaos and darkness, the army of the “fallen” (previously angel) entities wants to penetrate into our dimension, and they want to rule our world. Probably even David fought against them with the technology which was given to him by the lighting, energetic and spiritual angel beings. (Note: From now on the whole libretto is written in the Hungarian, but also in the apocryphal-biblical language, until the return of the two youngsters into the present.)

We see young David in a different dramatic situations, apart of the others also as he fights against the enemies, the Philistines, and even against Goliath. Later on Israel is attacked by the various enemies, several times also by the Philistines. Once during the night he has got a dream where the angel announces him that he has to protect himself and also his nation because from his bloodline the messiah will come, conceived in heaven, brought by a virgin from Earth, who will be the messiah of the whole mankind, and who will spread the idea of the universal love around the world.

Later on, all of the enemies with the powers of darkness want to surround Israel and destroy it so much, that there will be just a massive crater left instead of it. They will bring a glassed cage with them where the monster is, who calls himself “5-6-7”. He is not from this world and he is able to destroy everything. They can save themselves just the way that all of the men will go to the slavery and they will have to take over the pagan faith, and all of the women will be prostitutes. David is desperate. During the night he is crying and asking God for help. Later that night he sees a shine in the sky and in a shiny ray a lighting being descends on Earth. It tells David that his prayer was heard and he will get the sketch of the new Ark with the appropriate equipment. It has got an enormous power which was just in the birth of the world. Beware ! It can be used just by an unimpeachable person and just for the purpose of goodness, otherwise the Ark will destroy the user himself.

In the morning David shares the happy news with the nation of Israel. In front of the enemy he demonstrates the power of Ark. He just slightly opens it and the ray comes out which immediately destroys an island close to them. The whole army of the enemies starts to fear and withdraws, but the monster in the glassed cage shouts: “Now I will destroy you and the whole population of Israel!” Immediately a scary dark cloud comes out of him with heads made of stones and crystals. From the crystal heads a scary thundering rays come out. David then opens the Ark a bit more, and the ray which comes out of it immediately turns to ashes and dust all of the crystal heads together with the cage with a monster. The enemies are running away. Since this day the King David achieved many victories. Finally he peacefully dies during the sunset.

Our young scientist travel back to the present and they are welcomed by the extraterrestrial entities. They say that they don't know enough yet, but with the help of the technology in the Ark they should be able to destroy the powers of darkness. They will also have to cooperate with the even more evolved entities to get a clue what to do and where, even if they are not supposed to impact the life of the lower entities.
